

Change of occupational group rating

The insurance premiums that apply to your Voluntary Cover for death or death and TPD are determined by your occupational group rating. There are three occupational groups which reflect the different levels of risk associated with different occupations. For more information about your occupational group, go to the Voluntary Cover Insurance Guide, available on our website at www.qantassuper.com.au

Please complete the following questions to determine your occupational group and the premium scale which applies to you.
