

Further detail on expenditure during the 2023/24 financial year

Please note: The expenditure disclosed in each expense category is not mutually exclusive. That is, payments to some entities are included in multiple categories as required by Superannuation Industry (Supervision) (SIS) Act section 29P(3), and SIS Regulation 2.10. This means that total expenditure can be overstated.

- Remuneration expenditure: Remuneration expenditure includes the remuneration for our Key Management Personnel and Directors. You can find detailed information about remuneration in our 2023/24 Annual Report \(previously known as the Financial Statements\).
- Political donations: Qantas Super does not make political donations.
- Promotion, marketing, or sponsorship: This expenditure goes towards helping to grow Qantas Super and educate our members. This type of spend may include design, production, and distribution of educational materials, as well as the running of educational events and targeted sponsorships.
- Industrial body payments: Any payments made to industry bodies registered under the Fair Work (Registered Organisations) Act 2009 must be disclosed.
- Related party payments: The Trustee contracts with Qantas Airways Limited, a related party, for office accommodation, use of office equipment, technology, and certain administrative services, which are provided on an arms-length basis.
